This week, we have enjoyed thinking about the Mother languages spoken in our school as part of International Mother Language Day.

Did you know that there are 27 different languages spoken in our school community?

Here are a few comments from some of our KS2 children on why speaking different mother languages - the languages we speak at home - is important:

My Dad speaks Arabic and my Mum speaks French. I think mother languages are important as I will be able to talk in different languages when I am older which will help me to get a job.

Mathilde

I speak Cantonese at home. It makes me feel unusual and special. It's a bit like a secret language.

Shiyao

Speaking Turkish means that I can translate for my Mum and help her.

Semih

I speak English as my Mother language but I think it's really interesting that other children speak other languages at home. It's nice that we are all different.

Kallum

I think having a different mother language makes it easier to learn other languages - I speak Chinese at home and I speak French now too.

Xinyi

I think it is really useful because when I go to stay with family in Italy I can speak with them and understand them. I speak English but Italian is my culture too.

Every child must be free to say what they think and to seek and receive all kinds of information.

Towards Sustainable Futures through Multilingual Education

The theme of this year's International Mother Language Day was 'Towards Sustainable Futures through Multilingual Education'. It was therefore very appropriate that we were able to mark the day with a visit from Axelle Oxborrow from the French Institute who came to present Avery, Marc-André, Mathilde and Maya with their certificates for passing the DELF Prim (the first level in the DELF / DALF series of certificates awarded by the French Ministry of Education for French proficiency).

Avery, Marc-André, Mathilde and Maya are the first children from our bilingual stream to have taken this examination and we are very proud of their achievements especially as they all achieved over 95%. We look forward to being able to congratulate even more children later this year.

HIP HIP HOORAY, IT'S WORLD BOOK DAY!

We love reading, and next week is World Book Day. We will be celebrating this on Thursday 2nd of March by dressing up as our favourite book characters.

Who will you come as?

Be adventurous! Be creative! Be here!
